

Burningman Incident Comment Sabrina Wallace

I have been receiving several burning men, testimonies, videos and and information all day long. I put up the VR excuse me v i r a x app that they've put out to a bunch of biotech companies, that are directly linked to the development of Marburg and Ebola, which they've been threatening for a while now on mainstream channels like t report. You see, if you understand that the global information network is real and that there's a real bio-field that they're working with, with electrical transduction for data, and that they've been doing this since the nineties. Then you understand that if you've been selected on the death panel databases that the Psinergists know about, they're going to be like, 'Oh fuck, Sabrina, I told you. That's mine. No crazy here. I told you, they've got the death panel databases and they're going to use them because nobody said anything. Nobody said no. Everybody said go. So they're like, okay. And everybody was busy. This is a different video. "I just finished Lying for Money with the Q movement." So people were just sitting there. Of course the signal jumps from one person to the next. How? Through the wireless? Well, maybe I'm going to go through the document. But the body area network is the weapon of cybersecurity. So you're standing next to someone and Ebola jumps into you. They are all saliva, semen, food. I don't know if you know this, but at Burning Man the only things you can pay for are coffee and ice cream. I think everything else is bartered between people. Okay, so what now? What did they want to start? The gays against the Christians to get in, the Muslims against the Christians. Muslims against Christians to keep their war plan going. So what better way, when you've got people like Malfoy, Mickey Adams, lying like the wind, telling people it's witchcraft instead of JavaScript, if they fucking know what they're doing, they know it's JavaScript. Because at the DOD symposium in September 2020, they were talking about data tagging and data to providers like your bio labs. Your DNA where you are. Pay for play. Two companies. Your dad giddy. Is a set of characteristics.

Values and the vector of delivery as you are the data source. You get a drone scan or they don't need to because they can get in faster with your bio-sensors which are all over your body and communicate on wireless sensor relays in multiple types of computer networking WBAN protocols one more time. Since when? Exactly. So I said the death panel databases when the CGT report originally came out. I'll come back to the metaphor thing in a minute. When the ST report originally came out and said, "Oh, it's a three-point pass. I got angry, pissed off. It was another one of those things like the videos from this morning. I was so angry. I'm like, oh my God, why was I angry? Because I found out that COVID has its own body area network and I started telling them the Psinergists. Yeah. Covid is in a data centre somewhere, being re-released into you. Sure it is. And then I found the documentation and read it out loud. Then Tori posted it. Why is that? Because it exists. So then a guy called into the American Journal in December 2021, and he listed all this data and I'm like, holy shit, you guys put all this into three different types of injections. Mutagenic, hyper-mutagenic, and I'm like, yeah, with a choice in your characteristics of what you want to activate that is already in their tissues. Welcome to wireless tissue engineering. And I said Psinergists: This is all about wireless biomedical tissue engineering. What's a UFO? "Oh, I don't know". Radiating your biofield, sitting in your house with heavy underground magnets, drop the baseline carrier wave on your cable modem or fly something over your house, rearrange your cellular structure with the smart structure with the smart grid or just your biosensors. Welcome to the Global Information Network Centric Net Warfare Kill Grid. Then you'll think you're psychic because your neurons will be rattled and they're watching it with dynamics. And if you have too much going on in your morphological field, you turn into something. You fall into a wormhole, you disappear. Maybe you had a bad time with the policeman and you disappear that way. Whichever way you go, who's going to get you back? Exactly. Because nobody even knows that you got a body part, like 802.15.6 to a bunch of bros. Amazon has been given permission to mesh network with your body for faster shipping throughput in their databases. In August of 2021. See how that works. You're not even allowed to know it's a body part. Amazon shipping owes you a discount. So does your cable company. 802.15.5 wireless sensor networks that communicate with mesh networks. That's it. Then the bio-sensors themselves, as I mentioned, that's your 802.15.4. And just a second. I am trying to get this even over here so I can get to it more easily. That's your 802.15.4, and we're not done yet. I know. Doesn't it suck?

So, cybersecurity. That's the original I came out with. I said, you're in serious trouble because if you don't feel your own body then the signal jumps and now you've got Ebola. So what better way to make sure that's going on than ubiquitous, pervasive and ambient computing for the metaverse. 6G nano-communication technology to make sure that at the nanomillimetre scale we can do the following: change the phase state, focus the electromagnetic bioelectromagnetic wave, change the frequency filter, steer it into you, make sure your radio frequency absorption rates are mathematically appropriate, and push and push until we have the nano and new cellular wireless tissue. Bioelectric code. By decoupling your electrical field and inserting our xeno code into your body directly through the cellular membrane. No. Oh, I don't know. They just hit me with a random signal. So when the SGT report came out, that's the sign I'm looking for. And they said, Oh, it's a three-point impulse. I said, "These are Obama's death panel databases. They've already organised everybody. They've got various different systems to turn it on or off for whatever they want to do, to test the powers. And how did they get all this? Because "Looking Glass" used radio frequency to look through your ass a long time ago. Nobody told the truth about it. Then they they had everybody hooked up to radio frequency, an EEG, doing the hemi-sync stuff, a gateway. And then they practice throwing people back and forth with specialised bio-photonic concrete, the way they've always done it throughout history. Now it's a jump room. It's a set of specialised concrete. Concrete to move your butt from one place to another. Come on. Where are you hiding? "Three-point impulse." There we go. OK, so the Obama death panel databases, they said on the street report, it's like pathogen mutagen works in yeast, sugar and fungus. So if you're obese, if you eat too much fast food, if you have weak veins or low bone density, you're going to get hit with this kind of signal. If a three-point impulse is just the completion of the wave. And I said, if you know how to use your biofield and your photonic resistance, or you're too old and they don't want to pay you, well, you're going to have to be put out anyway because you're not vaccinated. That means you're undeliverable to their smart cities. So it's time for you to die. Death Panel databases. Yeah, thanks. Obamacare. Not a joke. Not even a little bit. How are they doing it? Combinatorial synthesis libraries. What I call it derpsis DNA encoded solid phase synthesis.

Welcome to your wireless drugging Electroceuticals nano theory- therapeutics to change out your nucleotides, growling nucleotides, whatever they want to again is a reference. This was always the plan. These are the notes. You can find the transcript link on the channel to the September 10th, 2020 Pentagon Artificial Intelligence Symposium with the Joint Artificial Intelligence Commission at the time in which they said, We're making a real excuse me, we're making it real for everyone. Everyone can and should implement artificial intelligence in everything they do. We have customers across the Department of Defense. Again, please go watch the live footage. These are my handwritten notes. They are accurate. That way you'll understand what I'm trying to tell you. They said we're taking people into being A.I. pioneers and AI practitioners because we're done with governance and ethics. And then they said, we've got an MQ nine reaper tethered to ground on every single individual American. The trade wins projects and contracting tools with the data max projects. And I'm like, What am I listening to? Data labelling and data curation. We have web portals for purchase with partners and services readily available. We have vendors. And I said, Who are these vendors and what are you selling? Vendors, Customers? What is this project? Salus What did we learn back to product delivery? Give them the code. The Salus platform is used by NORTHCOM with upgrades out to other vendors. The game changer will be the neural prototype. Now, folks, I got an EEG since 2012. This all been out there for how long? Here. Oh, look, the Burning Man has Ebola because it's Sodom and Gomorrah. That's what was on the front of the drudge already this morning. Are we narrative? Striving to show the Christians with Flynn. We're going to get. Yeah, get them. LGBTQ people are. You did that to them. You lied to them. You shove them out into. The streets with drugs. You did this on purpose, and now you've given them Ebola and lock them into a mudslide. I said prima materia. They melt people down into the mud. That's what the mud floods really are. Oh. Oh. Now, on the good side. Some things I haven't shown in a while. You see this dress? I think three more hairs just turn gray. But sort of back. It's fine. But on the good side, I showed the Psinergists with a note that was left to our family about what to eat back in 2021. And whatever it is. That your prayerful practice or practice is guiding you to.

This is why I worked so hard to bring people back to their own common sense and tell them trust yourself in your own cerebrospinal fluid and get to Tony the Nano bucket Guy for actual ways to cleanse your body of as much of this crap as you can. You're going to need the help of actual connectivity to your bio field. Because as they continue to scatter signals and do all they do. If you can feel it, you can move, get out of the way, move into a different part of your kill box. Even the people right there in the Burning Man. Yeah, they can move. They can shield. The good part is a bunch of them know about their bio field. How many people out there right now at Burning Man know how to erect, to shield and shunt the signal and block? I'm sure they're there. In the meantime, if we're putting out products with companies that work with the same human databases that the Ministry of Defence is allowed to talk about, do you think it's time to admit that they've got it, that they're doing what Clausen told you on stage they're already doing? Do you think it's time to stop bitching about my hair and yelling at the Rumble Dad for his attitude towards those of you out there who have let us down?

It's a Body Area Network. It's been a body area network since 1995, according to Wikipedia.

You could have told anyone at any time. You have let us down. Watch out for Charlie. Got the dirty electricity on the extremely low frequency side. There are a lot of people with meters and metrics that are kind of scattered all over the rainbow. Dead non Baxter for the tow over there. He's got a lot of data, so you can find out some metrics. The Psinergy PDF has the basics for. Bio-electromagnetic frequencies. We ban all that stuff on our Psinergists. Telegram has triage. In PDFs with real nurses. 30 years, 20 years. Etc.. Make use of what your fellow civilians like the rumble dad played in his video. Yeah, that would be us out on the block, out on the street. Those of us who grew up poor, those of us who know what's going on. Where he was right for this. Holy shit. But that's what I think. They want to give to the Christians. Here we go. That's why I'm like this.

It's just that I'm constantly oppressed by the fact that it's our own people. Who are doing this to us. And when I realised that the Marine Corps wasn't going to come out and tell anybody. I was like, "Holy crap, dude, you're going to continue to do with all the stuff I saw as a kid. No way. Yeah. So God bless you all out there. Please keep going. And I will. I'm going to work on a really quick block, shock, shunt and shield specific to the haemorrhagic stuff in the way that it hits inside. From the carrier wave derivatives at the gradient cellular frequency level, and then it's stretched back across. who they're connected to and who they're not connected to. whether you're connected or not. Like I said, that's a lot. It sucks like hell. No offence folks, but orgies are orgies. So energy workers, those of you who can get a message to your people over their shields and make sure you get people out of your bio-field that are graphically dated if you can, to do this. And then make another layer like the graphic that you just did with the energy workers or whatever, put them on an outer circle, put in the middle circle your people who know how to really push. They will hold the field, they will use crystals that are directly attenuated to you, that you work with, to additionally echo the field back into your bio-field.

Circulate that energy in a four point radii pulse. Like this. That also will shunt the metamaterials temporarily, that you're going to need a generator, an empathic generator. They're usually bigger people because that's usually how their bodies can naturally do it, have them pull from the nodes in the ground. I know where this is in Nevada. It's going to be tough because you're surrounded in ways you can't imagine underground and above your head.

But the energy of the earth itself, in the nodes, in the lay lines is real. They use it to lyric tells you are icy dig down you generative empaths feel through your feet pardon my nose pull the energy all the way up and through you and shield those circle or that circlet of people. Put your healers on the polar polarization sides one there and one there, or you're transfused as if you have them. and then your high frequency people who can feel and hear all that signal, they know how. They can move it if you let them. So you're healers. Keep healing them while you're the people on the outside. Guided by the generative shielding empath, the point person for keeping everyone safe, they can continue to reroute the signal. We did this in high school. I showed some of this to people in my class. I'm telling you. It's electricity through human bodies, just like we do on a circuit board. And you Freemasons know all about it. You've never had to do it this way. They did it, so they could control people by their DNA, with a remote and clear them out with the bio-frequency weapons- people they didn't want around anymore, in the 13 families they're levelling. Again, generative empath on the outside, holding the shield of the bio-field. DNA match, because if it's in one person for security purposes and if they really love you, this is your real heart tissue, otherwise it doesn't work. This is your real emotional enzymes or they don't work. This is your real bloodstream or it doesn't work. Healers on the polarised sides are transfused as if you have a high frequency on the other two sides and hopefully you have two of them because they're going to see different things and they have to be able to call each other or be telepathically connected enough. Then you put that in your camper or in the area and you secure it with these crystals. Make sure that everyone who's in that inner environment is away from anyone who's vomiting and having problems with plasma energy, water, clean, you know, obviously clean water source to keep the energy circulating. keep the energy circulating. And that's something that's going to be hard, but you've got to do it. To keep it moving. To shield. To maintain the shield. We must pray. Oh, my word. This feeling of energy, its way with our current is under Montana. I can feel it. Hear it more and feel it. Oh, OK. I'll come back to this in the meantime. There you go.
